2013 Women's Center Golden Sunflower Awards

This year the Women's Center altered its award to reflect the history of women's movement in the United States, choosing The Golden Sunflower in honor of the Women's Suffrage movement. Recipients of the awards demonstrate commitment, connection, and activism.

Categories this year included The Educator and The Women's Center Ally Awards. Educator recipients were Dana Gallant and Maria Larrimore, and student Ally recipients were Monique Golden and Phi Sigma Pi.

Award Descriptions

THE EDUCATOR: A member of the Lehigh community that opens the eyes of the students, faculty and staff to important gender related issues through dialogue, presentations, social media sharing, or even informal conversations.

Dana Gallant
Maria Larrimore

WOMEN'S CENTER ALLY: A supporter and/or collaborator of the Women's Center that goes above and beyond the call of duty to insure that the center's programs, events and projects exceed expectations and fulfill the needs of the campus as a whole.

Monique Golden
Kim Ketterer
Phi Sigma Pi

EXTRAORDINARY ACCEPTANCE: A person or organization that continuously works to foster an inclusive, safe space. This person is a fierce promoter of all types of diversity around campus.

Melanie Checkla

FRONTLINE FEMINIST: A feminist activist who consistently challenges the popular perceptions and misconceptions through their actions and work on Lehigh's campus.

Anna Carr

EMERGING ACTIVIST: This award was created to recognize the tremendous strides made by young, up and coming feminists in hopes that recognition and support will propel them onto the frontlines of feminism, education and acceptance.

Therese Corcoran
Sophie Kravet
Sophia Capretta

Dedication Award: Given to the students who have spent four or more years working at the Women's Center.
